

Dr DANNY PILLAY

M.Tech Hom (TN)

Personal Info

Dr. Danny Pillay formed part of the first intake of students at Natal Technikon School of Homoeopathy of 1989 and qualified from Technikon Natal with his Masters degree in Homoeopathy.

Significant Achievements

Dr. Danny Pillay represented Homoeopathy in Parliament on the 30 October 2000 to ensure, amongst other things, the future and status of Homoeopathy as a primary contact profession. He was a member of the Medicines Control Council Complementary Medicines Committee Broad Based Reference Group and was a past Chairperson and Founder Member of the Homoeopathic Association of South Africa (HASA). Dr. Pillay served on the Executive Committee of HomASA and was the convener/Chairperson and Founder of the Forum of South African Homoeopathic Associations. He has always had an active involvement in Homoeopathy and the Homoeopathic Profession in South Africa and is dedicated to the status, standing and future of Homoeopaths as Primary Contact Practitioners.

Current Activities

Dr. Danny Pillay is the current President of The Homoeopathic Association of South Africa and is a member of the Education Advisory Committee of the Department of Homoeopathy, University of Johannesburg. He is currently in private practice in Parkmore, Sandton and is a part-time lecturer at the University of Johannesburg.

Presentation

“Keeping patients well in a homoeopathic practice”

5 March 13h55-14h35

Dr Pillay’s presentation will directly link homoeopathy with the practice of wellness. It will also demonstrate to the audience a perspective on patient and practice management, in line with wellness methodology. During this presentation there will be 2 to 3 clinical examples to demonstrate the theoretical points. After this presentation, it will be evident to the audience that the goal of the homoeopath is not to relieve symptoms or take away pain, but rather to keep our patients healthy – both different outcomes that require different methodologies.